“LOOKING UP AND OUTWARD”

It is sometimes a concerning thing to here the news or read the local paper. If the news is not bad, then according to some, it is not printed or reported. I guess that is because people are not normally attracted to hearing about the more positive side of life. However, if a young lady is given an engagement ring, or a young married couple finds that they are going to have a child, then they can't seem to wait to announce the good news to all who will listen. I guess the news people want to hear and report all depends on their perspective on life and their circumstances. However, the greatest news of all is that we have a place secured by the throne of God. It is a place where all the news of this world, both the good and the not so good, mean nothing, because it will be vastly overshadowed by the greatest news of all eternity, the cross of Christ. Think about it...in one hundred years from now, what will really be important to us who are assembled here today? Will it be the good or bad news of today's politics, crime or other events, or will it be that Jesus made heaven possible for us? If it is going to be that important then, shouldn't it be that important now? Something to think about!

I love you all, Jack Cummings
