WELCOME TO WESTERN HILLS!

Today is a great day because God is still faithful, and we are His people.

Last Sunday was a great day. I want to remind all of us to keep Bridget Yawn and Bill Wiley in our prayers. Both responded last Sunday. Bridget asked that God give her peace and help as she is going through some hard times and Bill wants us to keep him in our prayers concerning his cancer treatment.

I want to thank all of you for the kind and encouraging words concerning the lessons last Sunday. It is my prayers that God will help each of us know how He wants to be working with us and through us as we live in this world, shining like a city on a hill for His glory.

You may have noticed the new blue-tri-fold cards in the card holder racks on the back of the pews. The cards are there for your use to inform our shepherds of any concerns you may have. The elders of this congregation truly want to be faithful shepherds of God's people here at Western Hills and they are constantly looking for ways to serve your needs. If you get an opportunity, thank the shepherds for their hard work and love as they labor to serve each of us.

I would like to invite all who would be interested, to a weekly prayer session, to meet here at the building at 7:30 AM on Tuesday morning. Bring prayer requests and knee pads. To God be the glory.

Love,
Jack

Looking Up and Outward

By Jack Cummings

“The older I get the more I realize how short this life on earth really is.” I remember when I was young and heard older adults say that and I thought they were not connected to reality. But now I understand that I was the one who was not connected. Both of my parents are now with the Lord and truly, this life was too short if I consider only this life as reality. However, as Christians, we must not think of life as simply living in this world. As a matter of fact, life for the Christian is not too short, it is for an eternity. I now understand something about being in Christ and eternal life that I once had a hard time grasping. It is that real life is not about this world but the one to come. In fact, I have come to understand that this world is the fake one and the one to come is the real one. Satan has done an excellent job of convincing many that this world is reality and the next world doesn't even exist. Truly, for those that Satan has deceived, this life is too short! But for us, when we rose from the water of baptism, our real life began...for all of eternity. We are simply pilgrims and strangers in this world living as citizens of heaven. When I had my last visit with my mother, before she left this life, she reminded me that she was not dying, she was just going home. Hallelujah, what a Savior and what a family reunion we are going to attend! If we live simply for this life, we will miss the real one. If we live for the real life, we will never miss this one. Read Mark 8:34-38 and think about it!

I love you all
Jack Cummings
